

Peripheral venous catheterization is a frequently required basic procedure in hospital care” Niwa et al (2016).

Abstract:

Peripheral venous catheterization is a frequently required basic procedure in hospital care. However, scientific consideration of the keys for successful catheterization have been inadequate.

ReTweet if useful... How to improve peripheral intravenous catheter insertion success
<http://ctt.ec/WmP61> + @ivteam #ivteam

Click To Tweet

Reference:

Niwa, R., Koguchi, A. and Sonoo, T. (2016) Influence of peripheral venous catheter size and resident postgraduate years on success of peripheral venous catheterization. The American Journal of Emergency Medicine. June 7th. .

Thank you to our partners for supporting IVTEAM