
Abstract:

Bacteria attach to all IMD and tissue engineering constructs where they form a three dimensional biofilm of cells and excreted polymeric substances. 5-10% of patients develop a HAI and of these 60-70% are associated with an IMD including prosthetic heart valves, orthopaedic implants, vascular and urinary catheters.