

IVTEAM are pleased to announce the launch of another free infusion and vascular access resource. IVanswers.com is a resource aimed at offering visitors an opportunity to both ask and answer IV related questions. IVanswers is built upon similar technology that drives IVTEAM and offers the same philosophy of freely sharing global infusion and vascular access expertise and evidence.

IVanswers is a new resource and we look forward to watching it grow over the coming months and years.

Finally, may we take this opportunity to thank everyone for visiting and supporting IVTEAM. We hope IVanswers will prove to be just as useful to our infusion and vascular access community.
